(410)

or their Proctors for them, did always bestow particular Rewards on the College, the Officers of the Order and of Arms, the Alms-Knights, and some others who attended the Solemnity, and in particular Garter had the Solemnity, and in particular Garter had anciently bestowed on him a rich Gown, to wear at the time of In. stallarion, but of late he has been presented with some seed other thing of confiderable Value. They also were liberal to the Officers of Arms, as appears by several Lar- Inthe gesses given to them by their Proctors, and in general to the greatest part of those that gave their Attendance.

C A P. XVIII.

deemed a perfore the making It

Han. V.

Place for

George

Of the Grand Feast of the Order.

The Grand Feast appointed to be celebrated Annu-4. The ally on St. George's Day. d on th

DY the Statutes of Institution, it's ordain'd, That mich he le Choic a folemn Festival should be Annually celebrated inher on the 23d Day of April, or St. George's Day, mogation in Honour of the Patron of the Order, as is observed in m, alou other military Orders, erected fince this of the Garter, molw to which this feems to give Rules of holding their Festivals on the Anniversary of their Patrons. Thus Philip, Duke of Burgundy, on his erecting the Order of the Golden tonge's Fleece, taking St. Andrew for its Patron, appointed the Festival on St. Andrew's Day. Lewis XI. King of France, appointed Michaelmas Day for holding the Feast of the Order of St. Michael. And so the Festival of the Duke of Savoy's Order of the Annunciade, on Lady Day. The Duke mo the tir of Bourbon's Order of the Knights of our Lady, on the ine Anna Conception of our Lady (8th December;) and other in-I appears t In War stances might likewise be given if it were necessary. to it for

The Anniversary of St. George fixed by the Church, F Were a li Barry VI to the twenty third of April. . However

6 2. That the 23d of April was the Day whereon S: Nime (411)

George suffered Martyrdom by Beheading, appears from the Greek Hexamiter before his Commemoration; which was the Day observed both by the Greek and Lating Church; as also by our Predecessors, the Saxons.

田村 attended of iently be

th form

mete li-

and to the der.

ted Anna

dain'd, The ly coleband

George's De observed a the Gate their Feltlass Philip

the Golden

inted the

eaft of the

ne Duken

The De

aty, cat

nd other?

雪

the Open

THE CHI

St. George's Day made Festum duplex.

63. After the Sovereign and Knights-Companions had encreased the Honour of their Patron's Festival, our Church began to take greater notice of it, being now also esteemed among us as the Patron of the Nation; and therefore they bestowed an addition of Honour upon it, by making it Festum duplex, ad Modum Majorum Duplicis. 3 Hen. V.

The Place for celebrating the Grand Feast, assigned to Windsor-Castle.

$4. The Founder of this most Noble Order having fixed on this Day, for performing its Solemnities, he made Choice of that of his Nativity, the Casele of Windfor, which for a long time after was inviolably observed there, either upon the very Day, or some other appointed by Prorogation, not long after: For which way of Prorogation, allowance was given by the Statutes of the Order, and of which the Registers are full of instances.

St. George's Day kept apart from the Grand Feast, and how then observed.

45. How this Noble Order flourished from its Foundation to the time of Henry V. no Account can be given, since the Annals thereof are wanting to his Reign; but then it appears to have been in considerable Splendor; but the Civil Wars toward the end of Henry VIth's Reign, eclipsed it for a while. Under King Edward IV. when things were a little settled, it seem'd to recover; and in King Henry VIIIth's time, was at a greater heighth than ever. However, though the several Branches of the Order receiv'd some Augmentation from the influence of this Monarch,

(412)

Monarch, yet the Grand Feast began to decline, by a removal of the observation of Sr. George's Day from Winds for, and a prorogatory Celebration of the Grand Feast to

Gast Sport

te deno ni Info

Juely Pt

and fro

Order, Di id as wer

na o Charch

le forth in

S-Compa

Amerences

thre. Th

m other l

my at the

te. The

the of Con

ter, and fo

m, or oth

he the Con

Majefty's 1

u Ceremon

line godly

and the f

oning the

to base by

is Decree

n to the h wheth of i

1: And the Tas taker to Si C tenion; v

inal Place

Ms therei

The Article of the Statutes, caufing this great alteration from the original defign of the first Institution, gives the Sovereign Power to prorogue the Grand Feast at his Bleafure; but then 'tis evident from the same Statute, that St. George's Day was nevertheless ordained to be duly observed by it self, in what Place soever the Sovereign (if within the Realm) should then reside; Windsor hereby being not excluded. 16 to Proce

It farther implies, the facred Rites and Offices to be performed, with other Matters concerning the Order; for befides the particulars therein enumerated, this general Clause is observable : That what other urgent Affair soever, relating to the Order, should offer it self to be performed, the same might be treated of, and receive difpatches, in the Chapter held where the Sovereign then should be, as fully as if he were at Windfor Castle.

So that henceforward, all things began to be ordered, both on the Eve the Day of St. George, and the Morrow on St, G after, with as great State; all Affairs as legally dispatched, y with gr and all Ceremonies as magnificently performed, except that of offering up of Archievements, which is peculiar to the Chappel of St. George at Windsor only, as could be observed at the Grand Festival it self.

And how, by Virtue of this Article, and with what Ceremonies St. George's Day was held, when the Grand Feast was prorogued, is evident from a full and ample Precedent, 22 Hen. VIII. now remaining in the Office of Arms. For though the Sovereign with 13 Knights-Companions were at Windsor that Year, upon the 22, 23 and 24 of April, yet at that time they observed only the Feast Day of St. George, with the Eve and Morrow after, but deferred, by Order in Chapter, the Celebration of the Grand Feaft, to the 8th of May enfuing.

The Grand Feast neglected by King Edward VI.

6 6. From the Accession of this Prince, the Sovereignty of this Order became more neglected, so that during his Reigna

(413)

Reign, no Anniversary of St. George was kept at Windsor; by a Grand Festival.

han

To Water State

herain

gives the

Bled.

3 that St.

世後は trial from

o to ben.

er; inh

Affair is o be per

eive dif-

eign then

te Moore disparche

ed, em

is being

y, as one

nich with

he Grand

pple Pre-

or Arms.

mpansans

nd 24 of

ft Day of

put deler-

he Grad

ard M

Soro

がいる

t. be ordered This is supposed to be owing to the common Calamity of that Age, wherein most Ceremonies, solemn or splendid, especially such as related to Divine Services, came under the denomination of being either Superstitious or Idolatrous. Insomuch, that at a Chapter held at Greenwich, 2 Edw. VI. an Abolition being intended for such Ceremonies as were not consonant to the King's Injunctions, lately prescribed, it was then decreed, that then, and for ever from thenceforth, at the Feast of this most Noble Order, no other Ceremonies should be observed than such as were appointed by his Majesties Letter.

That no Procession should be made with going about the Church, or Church-yard, but the King's Majesty's Procession, lately let forth in English to be used. His Majesty and other Knights-Companions fitting in their Stalls, at the Entry. such Reverences to be made to the King's Majesty only as was beretofore. The Offering to be in the Box for the Poor, without any other Reverence, or kiffing any Paten, or other thing = but only at the return, due Reverence to the King, as was wied before. The Mass of Requiem to be left undone; but yet. both on St. George's Day, and for next Day, a Mass to be Sung with great Reverence; in which, immediately after the Words of Confectation is said, the Priest shall say the Pater Nofter, and so turn and Communicate to all, or so many of the Order, or other, after they have done, as shall be disposed to receive the Communion, according to the Order prescribed by bis Majesty's Book of Communion, and without any other Rite or Ceremony after the said Communion to be used; except some godly Psalm or Hymn to be Sung in English, and so to end the said Service. All Chapters, and other Rites concerning the Order, not being contrary to thefe, to remain as they have been used.

This Decree seemed to mean nothing less than a Prohibition to the holding the Grand Feast at Windsor, at least the neglect of its Celebration there, whilst King Edw. VI. lived: And though toward the End of his Reign, some care was taken for a Permission to hold the said Feast, either on St. George's Day, or some other appointed by Prorogation; yet it was without any regard to the ancient and usual Place; for when the Act passed, commanding the Days therein mentioned to be kept Holy, and no other, whereby this was involved among many other Saints Days then prohibited to be kept, as not being found among the Feasts then Establish'd ; it was considered, that a Proviso and Allowance should be entered in the aforesaid Act; for the Celebration of this Feast, particularly by the Knights Companions; which Act, though it suffered a Repeal by Queen Mary, yet stands in force at this Day, being revived by King James I. his repealing that Statute of I Mar. Cap. 2.

whereby

Removed from Windsor by Queen Elizabeth.

6 7. But the most fatal Blow given to the growing Honour of the Castle of Windfor, was a Decree in Chapter held 9 Eliz, with the consent of the Knights-Companions then present, viz.

That if on the Vigil and Day of St. George, the Feath was not held at Windsor, according to the usual Custom, it should nevertheless be sufficient, if the Observation thereof & Arbitra twore kept at the same Place where the Sovereign should then happen to be, where also the rest of the Knights-Companions the first were obliged to be present, no less than if the Feast had been ! Full held at Windsor.

And so severe was the latter part of this Decree against night, or the flourishing condition of that Place, that it commanded ne given, alfo.

That no other Solemnity, under the notion of St. George's Feast, should thenceforth be celebrated at Windsor, except upon occasion of the Installation of some illustrious Person; and then also, not without express leave of the Sovereign.

And to lay truth, this Statute was but too ftrictly observed during her Reign; for we meet but with one Feast of St. George held there, till I Fac. I. (unless we mistake the Feasts of Installation for those of St. George, but then the Sovereign, who was yet in Scotland, lent his Commission, dated 5 April, to the Earl of Nottingham, his Lieutenant, to prorogue the Festival to the 3d July following, and after constituted him to hold the Feast; which was performed the 2, 3 and 4 Days of the faid Month, with all Pomp and Ceremony. The King himse f, being then at Windsor, was prevented from being present by fome occasion not mentioned:

Thus

SATELLA SA

abereby of the

ofhavi

Haring San VI ns felde

100 and

tame to be

gace of th

in farther

either Ab

n Realo

after E

phortunal

w upon a

The fa

mence of intuites of d when t

here befo

Injust Con

ter for ap

Illututes O

within f

a Six Folia

be Feaft

W

Dately, W

Eld at W

copie upo

(415)

Do Do

a Proje

Adily

Enight creal by teng re-grants of

le gray

e in Cip

Company

the Fee

uftom, i

on thereof

ompanion

of hales

cree agent

dominal

St. George

llar, except

us Perjan

raign.

idy ob-

ne Feat

we mi

orge, but

ient in his man in and Month nlet, tel

PROD

Thus, after a long Interval, the Honour of the Peast was restored, which had this effect, toward the End of King James I. Reign, and that of his Son and Successor, King Charles I. that it begat a Re-union of the Feast and Place, whereby the Castle of Windsor, samous for the Institution of this most Noble Order, retrieved its ancient Honour, of having its Solemnities celebrated there.

Of Prorogation of the Grand Feast.

§ 8. Having thus noted, that from the beginning of king Henry VIIIth's Reign, till of late Years, the Grand Feast was seldom observed upon the precise Day of St. George; and that the occasion how both Day and Feast came to be celebrated apart, took its rise from the indulgence of the Statutes in point of Prorogation: "Tis necessary farther to observe, that this Prorogation is of two sorts, either Absolute, as being enjoined by the Statutes; of else Arbitrary, at the Sovereign's Pleasure, upon interagening Reasons.

In the first of these the Founder's Statutes enjoin, That if the Feast of St. George shall happen within sisteen Days next after Easter Day, it shall be prorogued to the Sunday such after Easter Days after Easter Day. And the reason is there given, That every of the Knights-Companions might have opportunity of coming thereto, without being constrained to ride upon any of those three Holy Days preceeding Easter Day. The same Rule for Prorogation, where there is a concurrence of these two Feasts, is likewise enjoin'd by the Statutes of King Henry V. and King Henry VIII.

And when the Grand Feast, in this case of Easter, has been kept before the expiration of the said sisteen Days; the Knights-Companions then absent, to avoid the Penalty for their not appearing, have made Excuse; that the ancient Statutes of the Order were violated in keeping the Feast within sisteen Days after Easter, as was alledged when Sir John Denham, Lord Treasurer, as President, held the Feast of St. George at Windsor, 24 April, 8 Henry VII.

Anciently, where the Register mentions the Grand Feast to be held at Windsor, beyond the Day of St. George, 'tis observable upon Calculation, that Easter Day, in those times.

(416)

times, fell too near the 23d of April, to celebrate the Feat on, without breaking the Law, which was the real cause of those Prorogations, of which there are many Inflances.

And as the Knights-Companions had Prohibitions put upon of the Solemnization of their Feast, in case of its interfering with Easter, so had the Church of England, in their Observation of St. George's Day, in reference to several other difference Festivals; and this continued till the time of the Reformation begun by King Edward VI. but fince the Grand de Feast has been celebrated upon any of them indifferently and the Feast of Easter only excepted.

The second fort of Prorogations, which are meerly Arbitrary, and wholly dependent on the Sovereign's Pleafure, yet warranted sufficiently from the Words, Causa postulante, mentioned in King Henry VIII's Statutes; as likewise the great Latitude given the Sovereigns of this most Noble Order, in reference to their Affairs, in the fame Statutes: The first Precedent of which was, Anno antipo 5 Hen. V. when about August; four Months after St. Rormary George's Day, that King being engaged in the Wars of " Of France, ordered the Feast to be celebrated at Caen in Nor- mimes mandy, and with great Solemnity created fifteen Knights ign's Pl into the Order.

There are feveral other Examples, particularly one 8 Hen. VIII. when the King being at Eltham on St. George's Day, it was in a Chapter there held, Decreed, That the accustomed Feast of St. George should be observed at Windsor 25th of May enluing. And from this time it became Annually customary, to keep the Day of St. George where the Sovereign at that time made his Abode: On which Days and the Day after, the usual Solemnities were observed. But as to the Solemnization of the Grand Feaft it self: that was in one of the Chapters then held, adjourned to some farther time, and then solemnized at Windsor by Prorogation, not by the Sovereigns themselves, but by their Lieutenants and their Affistants appointed for that

But to proceed with the Causes of Prorogation, which were either for some weighty reasons, or upon emergent Occasions; Anno I Maria, the Sovereign celebrating the Feast of St. George at St. James's, Philip, Prince of Spain, and the Earl of Suffex, were on the Morrow after elected into the O'der; whereupon it was likewise De-

19. The

mion, ar

z, when

Grand

zime, w

amon of

min the

w, to att

ceepratio

to the f A DEST, 2

the Pres

a pecial 1

title Con

theambl

Witter

Apple Some

(417)

treed, that the Inauguration of these two elect Knights, till the Prince came to England, which happening 21st July following, the Grand Feast, together with that of the elect Knights Installations, were appointed to be celebrated at the same time.

aba Pol

े हो द्यां

y loter

their O

ted other

the Refor-

the Graph

Month

武士

reignista

ords, Cale

carutes; a ns of the rs, in e

vas, Am

after Sc

Wars of

min No

een Kiight

icularly on Sc Gogli

Det de la

2 Wale

became Ar-

where the

hich Day,

oblested.

A it lelf;

arned to s, but h

for the 100, 100

celebrate A Process

Menzil

Again 3 and 4 Phil. and Mar. at a Chapter held 22d April, the Feast of St. George, together with the Installation of three elect Knights, was appointed to be held at Windfor the 9th of May ensuing; and by a Chapter Summoned the 3d of May, before the appointed Day for holding the Fealt, the fathe was prorogued to the 15th of December following, upon the pressing Affairs of the King and Queen. But before that defigned time came; another Chapter was held on the 31st of October, wherein it was again prorogued to the first Sunday after Twelfth-day, viz. 9 January, if by that time the King, who was then in Flanders, should return to England: But that not happening, it was farther prorogued to the 20th of February; and thence by another Decree to St. George's Day. Of which there are many other Examples, and fometimes upon other Occasions, but still at the Sovereign's Pleasure.

Of Commissions of Prorogation.

ogation, ancienter than 12 Car. I left by Sir Thomas Rowe, wherein notice is taken of all the adjournments of the Grand Feasts, from St. George's Day preceeding, till that time, with the reasons thereof, and chiefly upon confideration of the spreading Sickness, together with a Command to the Knights-Companions, and the Officers of the Order, to attend the Sovereign on the new affigued Days for celebrating the Feast.

As to the substance hereof, the succeeding Commissions very near agree, yet with some little difference; as sirst, the Preambles are general, and run thus: Whereas, upon special Reasons, and other important Affairs, &c. except the Commission issued 25th February, 1637, where the Preamble was sitted to a special Occasion, and runs thus.—Whereas we have determined to Create the Princes our eldest Son; a Knight, and to propose him in Election as a commission of the commission of

(418)

Companion of our most Noble Order, for the more conveniency of his Installation, we have thought fit to defer the Feast of St. George, &c.

But in the Commissions of Prorogation of the Grand Feast, 25th February, 19 Car. I. the Place appointed for Celebration is omitted, which defect we find in the abovementioned Precedent also; yet afterwards that material part came to be incerted, and first of all in that Commisfion of the 26th February 14 Car. I. where the Place, being the City of York, is put into the Body of the Commission. And when the Civil War drew on, and the Sovereign could not well ascertain any Place, then the Grand Feast was appointed to be kept at any such Place, as on a nearer view should seem convenient, afterwards it varied something, and came to be inserted thus --- Wherefoever we shall then be; or thus, at fuch Places as we shall timely appoint.

The most ordinary course, preparatory to the iffuing fuch Commissions of Prorogation, has been by the Sovereign's Declaration in Chapter, or otherwise the fignification of his Pleasure to the Chancellor of the Order at any other time, who thereupon drew up the Commission. and presented it to the Sovereign for his Sign Manual, and then affixed thereto the Great Seal of the Order. But where the Chancellor was not at hand to receive the Sovereign's Commands, in this case it was conveyed to him by some other Hand, with Command to Summon the Knights-Companions and Officers accordingly. For foir was done to Sir Francis Windebank, Kt. Secretary of State; by his Letter to Sir Thomas Rowe, 13 Car. I. for Prorogation of the Grand Feast.

And as all the preceeding Adjournments of the Grand Feaft have been either Decreed in Chapter, or directed immediately from the Sovereign; so there is a Precedent where the Lieutenant has been impowered to Prorogue the same, yet to the Time and Place appointed by the Sovereign, and inferted in the Commission of Lieutenancy: And this was in a Commission, 1 3ac. I. directed to

Charles, Earl of Notting ham,

a. The then oo

a Real ally to b

de once d cught :

it Seatut

ni lkewi

Horans

te fame t

whence

. Feftivita

If late ti

the Sta

the refi

a Cl

De Sovere

ing prorog

El time,

if the 1

me within

Afor the n

thin the

und confi

ionent, h

学的社

If the O

Same, 4 trereign's of from t and sp that forme H Sec. 0 That the Grand Feast ought to be celebrated once a Year.

Grand for above-

2 k.

No.

Tale and 西京

TWars

-- May

me fel

issuing e Sove-

benifi-

Order at modifical

Manual,

rder. Bo ve the Sir

ed to him

For foit

of State;

Proto-

Grand

ire ded recedent Prorogue by the ntenant.

rected to have been occasionally made use of on the aforesaid interportant Reasons, yet no such Adjournment or Prorogation is legally to be enlarged beyond St. George's Day ensuing because once within the compass of every Year, the Grand Feast ought to be folemnized; for so it was ordained by the Statutes at the Institution of the Order, and confirmed likewise by the succeeding Statutes. And when our Historians take notice of the Grand Feast, they steak of the same thing, that it ought annually to be performed; whence it is frequently called in the Registers, Annua Festivitatis, solemnitas annua, Celebritas annua, and the like.

Of late times an occasion happened that brought this of the Statutes, into a solemn debate in Chapter, which for the refult thereof became very remarkable.

At a Chapter held at White-Hall, 2d February, 1640.

The Sovereign proposed to the Knights-Companions, shat having prorogued the Celebration of St. George's Feast from time to time, to the 1, 2, and 3 of March, fo near Lent, that if the Feast were not held on these Days, it could not be done within the compass of that Year; because the 23d of April, for the next Year, did fall on Good-Friday, and so conlequently must have been kept in Lent this Year, or not at all; and considering the great and important Affairs of the Parliament, he moved the Question, whether, if there were no Feast kept this Year, it would be any Blemish to the Honour of the Order? And whether he might not dispence with the Statute, and defer it till next Year? They all confessed the Sovereign's dispensing Power, yet some of the Knights seeing from the Institution to that time, no Precedent was found where the Grand Feast had been wholly omitted, but that some of the Sovereigns, even though engaged in War beyond Sea, either solemnized the Feast in their own Prefense, E e 2

Sins of Street

Warrand

to Oca

the eller

ie for th

th of S

whether

Hite So

mer this,

m's St

o.ds not ions, grant late to late the Let But what any or nt, four,

nd in cale

e conver

inghts-Com

o the m

Leners

Heblent]

n Houses

Madest

Chancel

A VEICETS

fence, or by Commission in England, which was averred by the Chancellor to be both the fundamental and constant Practice,) humbly befought the Sovereign not to begin to make any breach in the constant Order, so long and uninterruptedly continued. Whereupon it was resolved, by general Vote, that the Feast should be celebrated on the aforesaid

Days of Prorogation.

By which determination it sufficiently appears of what Moment the Sovereign and Knights-Companions then conceived it to the Honour of the Order, to follow the Seatutes, for the Celebration of the Grand Feast once every Year. Besides, it is observable, that it was not thought expedient to be dispensed with, even on the most pressing and important Occasions. But rather than the Seatutes should suffer any Violation, the Feast was then solemnized, tho' they were so straightful in point of time, as not to have above two Days to make preparation for it.

And though indeed on the breaking out of the unhappy Civil War, the Sovereign was obliged to defer the Solemnity from Year to Year, it was not to be looked on as any Precedent; and on the Restauration of King Charles II.

it renewed its former Order.

CAP. XIX.

Of Preparations for the Grand Feast of the Order.

Of Letters giving notice of the Time and Place.

Mong many other things which are necessary to be prepared beforehand; the first of course is, the Letters directed to all the Knights-Companions and Officers of the Order, resident within the Kingdom, to give them notice of the Time and Place, when and where the Feast is to be held. (2.) Letters of Dispensation to such Knights, as the Sovereign shall please to Excuse from their attendance at the Feast. (3.) Commissions