Ivy.

I T is well known to every Child almost to grow in Woods, upon the Trees, and upon the Stone Walls of Churches, Houses, &c. and sometimes to grow alone of itself, tho' but seldom.

Time.] It flowereth not until July, and the Berries are not ripe till Christmas, when they have felt Winter-frosts.

Government and Vertues.] It is under the Dominion of Saturn. A Pugil of the Flowers, which may be about a Dram (faith Dioscorides) drunk twice a Day in red Wine, helpeth the Lask, and Bloody Flux. It is an Enemy to the Nerves and Sinews, being much taken inwardly, but very helpful unto them being outwardly applied. Pliny faith, that the yellow Berries are good against the Jaundice; and taken before one be set to drink hard, preserveth from Drunkenness, and helpeth those that spit Blood. And that the white Berries being taken inwardly, or apply'd outwardly, killeth the Worms in the Belly. The Berries are a singular Remedy to prevent the Plague, as also to free them from it that have got it, by drinking the Berries thereof made into a Powder, for two or three Days together. They being taken in Wine, do certainly help to break the Stone, provoke Urine and Womens Courfes. The fresh Leaves of Ivy, boiled in Vinegar, and applied warm to the Sides of those that are troubled with the Spleen, Ach, or Stich in the Sides, doth give much Eafe: The same applied with some Rose-Water, and Oil of Roses, to the Temples and Forehead, easeth the Head-ach, tho' it be of long Continuance. The fresh Leaves boiled in Wine, and old filthy Ulcers hard to be cured, washed therewith, doth wonderfully help to cleanfe and heal them. It also quickly healeth green Wounds, as also, it is effectual to heal all Burnings and Scalding, and all Kinds of Exulcerations coming thereby, or by falt Flegm or Humours, in other Parts, of the Body. the Nose, purgeth the Head and Brain of thin Rheum that maketh Defluxions into the Eyes and Nose, and curing the Ulcers and Stench therein; the same dropped into the Ears, helpeth the old and running Sores of them; those that are troubled with the Spleen, shall find much Ease by continual drinking out of a Cup made of Ivy, so as the Drink may stand some small Time therein before it be drunk. Cato saith, That Wine put into such a Cup will soak through it, by Reason of the Antipathy that is between them.

There feems to be a very great Antipathy between Wine and Ivy; for if any have got a Surfeit by drinking of Wine, his speediest Cure is to drink a Draught of the same Wine, wherein a handful of Ivy Leaves, being first bruised, have

Juniper Bush.

OR to give a Description of a Bush so commonly known, is needless.

Place. They grow plentifully in divers Woods in Kent, upon Warny-Common near Brentwood in Suffex upon Finchly-Common without Highgate, hard by the New Found-Wells near Dulledge, upon a Common between Micham and Croyden, in the High Way near Amersham in Buckinghamshire, and many other Places.

Time.] The Berries are not ripe the first Year, but continue green two Summers and one Winter before they are ripe; at which Time they are of a black Colour, and therefore you. Thall always find upon the Bush green Berries; the Berries are ripe about the Fall of the Leaf.

Government and Virtues.] This admirable Solar Shrub is scarce to be parallel for his Vertues. The Berries are hot in the third Degree, and dry but in the first, being a most admirable Counter-poison, and as great a Resister of the Pestilence, as any grows; they are excellent good against the Bitings of venomous Beasts, they provoke Urine exceedingly, and therefore are very available to Dysuries and Stranguries. It is so powerful a Remedy, against the Dropsy, that draw the Chimical Oyl, may content themselves by eating ten or a dozen of the ripe Berries every Morning fasting; they are admirably good for a Cough; Shortness of Breath, and Confumption, Pains in the Belly, Ruptures, Camps, and Convulfions. They give fafe and speedy Delivery to Women with Child, they strengthen the Brain exceedingly, help the Memory, and fortify the Sight by firengthning the Optick Nerves. They are excellent good in all Sorts of Agues, they help the Gout and Sciatica, and strengthen all the Limbs of the Body. The Ashes of the Wood is a special Remedy to such as have the Scurvy, to rub their Gums with. The Berries stay all Fluxes, help the Hæmorrhoids or Piles, and kill Worms in Children. A Lye made of the Ashes of the Wood, and the Body bathed with it, cures the Itch, Scabs and Leprofy. The Berries break the Stone, procure Appetite when it is loft, and are excellent good for Palfies, and Falling-Sickness.
