

XXXIII.

THE OLD MAN.

"Spiritus meus attenuabitur, dies mei breviabuntur, et solum mihî superest sepulchrum."—Job xvii.

Death leads his aged victim to the grave, beguiling him with the music of a dulcimer.