

XVIII

THE JUDGE.

“Disperdam judicem de medio ejus.”—Amos ii.

He is deciding a cause between a rich and a poor man. From the former he is about to receive a bribe. Death behind him snatches his staff of office from one of his hands.