

XV.

THE ABBESS.

"Laudavi magis mortuos quam viventes."—Eccles. iv.

Death, grotesquely crowned with flags, seizes the poor Abbess by her scapular. A Nun at the convent gate, with uplifted hands, bewails the fate of her superior.