

THE EMPRESS.

“Gradientes in superbia potest Deus humiliare.”—Dan. iv.

Gorgeously attired and attended by her maids of honour, she is intercepted in her walk by Death in the character of a shrivelled old woman, who points to an open grave, and seems to say, “To this you must come at last.”