

de la Bibliothèque de Jacques Gachard apothicaire à Fribourg en Suisse.

LA

PHARMACOPEE

RAISONNÉE

DE

SCHRODER.

COMMENTÉE

PAR

MICHEL ETTMULLER.

TOME SECONDE.

A LYON,

Chez THOMAS AMAULRY, rue
Merciere, au Mercure Galant.

M. DC. XCVIII.

AVEC PRIVILEGE DU ROY.

Handwritten text at the top of the page, likely bleed-through from the reverse side. The text is mirrored and difficult to decipher but appears to contain several lines of cursive script.

The main body of the page contains several lines of extremely faint, mirrored text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side. The text is illegible due to its lightness and the paper's condition. A large, faint rectangular box is visible in the lower half of the page, possibly indicating a redacted area or a specific section of text on the reverse side.