

Johannes, Miles conductus Westfal 1199.

Genealogical table with multiple columns and rows detailing family members, including names, birth/death dates, and relationships. The table is organized into several horizontal sections, each starting with a numbered list of individuals. The text is dense and spans the entire page.

