

Handwritten text in a Gothic script, likely a list or inventory, located at the bottom of the parchment page. The text is arranged in several lines and is partially obscured by the binding structure.

